Praying Around the Clock

In addition to the prayer meetings from 8pm each evening, we also want to pray continuously as a church, in the church, from 6pm on Friday to 6pm on Sunday.

While this may be a new concept at HRBC, Bangor has a rich heritage in this 24/7 prayer dating back to Bangor Abbey in 558-810 AD, and we want to recapture some of that heart and hunger in 2012.

We want you, young and old, to sign up to come and pray for an hour in the prayer room, prompted by the Adoration, Confession, Thanksgiving and Supplication stations, covering the whole weekend in continual prayer.

This will be a great opportunity for you to spend time personally with God praying through personal issues, and also praying through issues facing us as a church moving ahead.

We'd encourage you to sign up either on your own, with a friend, as a prayer triplet or with your family. The prayer room allows people of all ages and stages to come and spend an hour with God in prayer, and if you think you could never spend a full hour in prayer, take the challenge! We're sure you will want to come back for more.

On Sunday from 5pm-6pm we will finish the weekend off with an open prayer time, and then serve tea and coffee before the evening service at 6:30pm.

If you would like more information, please check out the websites below or contact Keith on 07849939056 or youth@hamiltonroadbaptist.com

If you're convinced, please sign up in the foyer for an hour (or more), we will then be in touch with more details.
